COUNTY DURHAM INDEX as at 1st December 2014

COPYRIGHT

This Index has been compiled by Janet Brown to whom the copyright belongs. It may not be copied, altered in any way or reproduced without permission.

Janet Brown, Bilsdale, Ulgham, Morpeth, Northumberland, NE61 3AR.

NEWMP has for many years recorded the War Memorials found in the region from the River Tweed to the River Tees. NEWMP realises that two areas which were historically in North Yorkshire (south of the River Tees boundary) are now included in Stockton on Tees and Barnard Castle administrative districts. These towns and villages will be added to the web site and the County Durham Index over the next few months. Anyone with details of War Memorials in these places is asked to contact:- enquiries@newmp.org.uk

See also the Parish Page for each place for other relevant information.

See "Every Name A Story" for war graves, family headstones and other sources of individual information.

Colour code.

Items in green bold show that information is needed. Any help would be gratefully received and acknowledged.

A note from Anne McNair, Casework Officer for the Statutory Advisory Committee for the Church of England Church Buildings Council, Advisory Board for Redundant Churches, states:

“West rose window. Apparently, the glazing in the west end was a parish First World War memorial, devised by Wood. All that survives is the west rose window which was installed in 1917, dedicated to Charles Stuart, 6th Marquis of Londonderry, who died 1915. The window was dedicated by his daughter. There is also supposed to be a drawing of the plan at the rear of the Church The glass was designed by Burlison and Grylls and was inspired by late Flemish late medieval design. (This information has not been confirmed by the Advisory Board for Redundant Churches) ”.
